

Craft activities related to Chinese New Year

We continued different activities related to Chinese New Year. The pre-schoolers were making Chinese Lanterns by colouring patterned paper faces and gluing them together. They also coloured and made dragon masks. They learned about different patterns and symbols to express creativities which they related in discussion to the story of Chinese New Year.

Learning area: fine motor skills, eye-hand co-ordination, expressive language

Our creative Butterflies:

Our pre-schoolers have shown their well-developed thinking skills by connecting shapes to create their names. Most of them are able to identify the letter their name starts with – some can even create all the alphabets of their name.

Learning area: literacy, fine motor skills, eye-hand co-ordination, expressive language

Our creative gross motor and fine motor activities:

- The children enjoyed using beads and threading them onto plastic lines.
- They put large building blocks together to make different configurations – on which they could step up, walk and jump off.
- The train set is a popular activity with children. They put train tracks into various configurations using tracks, tunnels and the turnstiles.

Learning areas: fine and gross motor skills